Thanks, Peter.

Would it be appropriate for you to pass along the Science Integrity Policy as potentially responsive - although not directly related. That's probably something I should have on hand anyway, since this issue isn't going away soon. Perhaps I can retrieve it from the web.

Glenn referred to some emails as well, but he thought they were non-substantive. Unless I get them from you or Ellen, I'll assume that you consider them non-responsive.

(By the way, welcome to the neighborhood - soon!)

I have nothing more than what Ellen will provide, if she has not already. There were a handful of e-mails, with no substantive content.
